

OPENFINANCE OPENS ITS NEW HEADQUARTERS IN VALENCIA

- Infobolsa's technological subsidiary offers its services to over 60,000 financial advisors
- Reinforces its presence in Chile, Mexico and Colombia with solutions adapted to the regulatory framework and needs of each country where it operates

Valencia, June 25. Openfinance, based in Valencia, which specialises in the development, implementation and maintenance of innovative technological solutions for financial advice and portfolio management, already offers its services to over 60,000 financial advisors through more than 70 firms that are already part of their client portfolio. The company today opened its new offices in the centre of Valencia, in Calle Pintor Sorolla 23, to meet the need for expansion that arises from their international presence.

During 2015, Openfinance has been awarded new contracts with major financial institutions in Chile and Colombia after winning the respective tenders.

Openfinance has overhauled the technology of its Openworkplace® to adapt it to new markets. "We have updated our flagship product, Openworkplace®, to adapt it to the new demands and provide it with greater functionality and flexibility in order to best adapt to the needs of customers in the various countries in which we operate. In implementing Openworkplace solutions we use an agile methodology that incorporates our best practices following several years of experience in similar projects", said Gonzalo de la Peña, Openfinance Chief Operating Officer.

Openfinance, in collaboration with BME, has strengthened its position in Latin America and continues to work to position itself in new countries, for which it also relies on the experience, reputation and support of local partners.

"Within the Valencia region, to which our company has felt closely attached since its inception and where our product development centre is based, the vocation of Openfinance is to remain a benchmark in its sector worldwide. Our remarkable historical progression stems from the combination of human talent in Openfinance and their commitment to the values of the Company, driven by the most demanding sense of customer service. Our new facilities, which we present today, are the symbol of this new stage of growth and international projection", said Alfonso Alcalá, Managing Director of Openfinance, during the opening of the new offices.
